NCAA WOMEN: CHINEY OGWUMIKE

- 1) Tara VanDerveer has perhaps perfected the Triangle offense as much as any coach in the history of the game.
- 2) Ogwumike is a classic 2 post system 4 player for the Triangle offense. She is a player that can play facing up at the elbow or play with her back to the basket.
- 3) In this frame we show Ogwumike playing at the 4 position and the ball is entered to the wing and a corner cut is made by the point guard.

- 1) Here the ball will thrown to the corner and Ogwumike will immediately set a backscreen for the wing.
- 2) Opposite of the ball, several things can happen but here will have the opposite post screen away for the wing to open the middle 1/3 of the floor up.

- 1) Often the post player here will go and set a ball screen for the corner point guard. However, here Ogwumike will take a step out from the post to receive a pass.
- 2) If x1 jumps to the ball and tries to deny the dribble handoff here, this is a great time for a back door pass along the baseline.
- 3) To occupy the defense on the weakside, 5 will pin 2 along the baseline.

- 1) Now what we have is Ogwumike isolated on the right side of the floor in a 1/1 situation. It would very tough for a double team to come quickly or effectively.
- 2) Now VanDerveer has her best player in a very effective position to make a play.
