

- 1) The Pelicans were locked up in a tight game in December with the Portland Trail Blazers.
- 2) In this set they put Tyreke Evans in the Horns spot where you would normally put your other post player.
- 3) They had Anthony Davis set a cross screen for Evans and then he received a pass. Along the baseline Ryan Anderson basically exchanged with Al-Farouq Aminu.

- 1) With Evans with the ball at the elbow area, Davis comes back to set a ball screen for him to get penetration.
- 2) The point guard spaces to the opposite wing to create space.

- 1) Off of this action, Evans has several options. He can obviously score the ball in the lane off the dribble which he was doing very well on this night.
- 2) Davis rolling to the rim is another tough action to guard. Especially if x5 has helped over.
- 3) Ryan Anderson in the opposite corner spaced up the arc to gain space for a 3pt shot. He is one of the better 3pt shooting 4 players in the NBA.
