

HALF-COURT: NEW ZEALAND DOUBLE

- 1) New Zealand used this set vs. the USA to get an open shot in the pool game.
- 2) It started with a weak side down screen for the opposite guard.

HALF-COURT: NEW ZEALAND DOUBLE

- 1) Once the point guard has passed the ball to the wing, he makes a basket cut, but then fills the opposite wing.
- 2) The guard centers the ball slightly & then delivers the basketball to the wing.

HALF-COURT: NEW ZEALAND DOUBLE

- 1) Now the point guard can feed the post player on the block.
- 2) The post player should gain good position here to receive the ball. He is not really looking to score, but instead to be able to get an angle to receive the pass.

HALF-COURT: NEW ZEALAND DOUBLE

- 1) Now with the ball on the block, a double stagger screen is set for the opposite wing.
- 2) A post player who can pass and have vision is key here.
- 3) Also a note - if the defense decides to switch, you should be aware of the slipping opportunities that arise.
